

RELX Group Editorial Policy for Suppliers

The RELX Group Code of Ethics and Business Conduct makes clear our commitment to excellence and the need to uphold ethical standards in all our corporate activities. Accordingly, the RELX Group Editorial Policy outlines principles underlying RELX Group's products and services, including but not limited to books, journals, magazines, websites, blogs, mobile content, and community sites.

RELX Group has a responsibility to all stakeholders, including authors, customers, and employees, to produce information of the highest quality, which is accurate, comprehensible, and timely; which avoids bias, defamation, conflict of interest or plagiarism; which makes a clear distinction between fact and opinion, and clearly identifies editorial, advertising, user-generated, or other content. RELX Group encourages dialogue on its content, including through social media.

We expect our suppliers and vendors engaged in the creation and management of content for our businesses to uphold the same standards when creating, editing, and managing content. We are committed to working with our suppliers to ensure awareness and compliance with our editorial standards. We provide clear instruction for corrections, retractions, or withdrawals and provide mechanisms for reader and customer feedback and for registering any concerns.

Managers and creators of content for RELX Group must resist threats or inducements to influence, distort, or suppress information and must not take personal advantage of information gained in the course of their duties before that information becomes public knowledge.

To foster a free exchange of ideas, our editors have independence in their decision-making and are free from internal and external pressure. Where appropriate, we verify content, cite supporting materials, and use methods such as peer review to ensure impartiality and balance. We respect privacy and uphold copyright laws. We expect these same standards of independence, verification, and respect for privacy and intellectual property to be upheld by our suppliers who create, edit and manage content on our behalf.

RELX Group staff have the right to refuse acceptance of any deliverable that violates the letter or spirit of this policy.

Any substantiated breach of this RELX Group Editorial Policy for Suppliers may result in a termination of the Agreement between RELX Group and the supplier for cause.